WEDNESDAY morning, my sponsor has asked me to make a list of my character defects that we can do Steps six and seven when we meet later in the day. It's been weeks since I've met with her to do Steps work, and I've been yawning in my character defects since I finished reading her my Fifth Step. I'm anxious and frustrated. I'm ready to get some relief and do those two Steps. Unfortunately, our schedule change and we can no longer meet. I can't hang on to these any longer, but I'm not really sure what to do.

Earlier in the week I had good talking to God. I definitely admit to believing in Higher Power, but I've always questioned whether or not she actually has any interest in me on a personal level. My sponsor has been encouraging me for months to practice praying, even if I don't think it will do anything. She also suggested writing a letter to God, allowing her to respond. It was during that assignment that I found myself having a full-blown conversation with God in my journal. He that dialogue I wrote that all I wanted to do was go throw rocks in the ocean.

beach to throw rocks in the ocean. The beach was. It's a delightfully gray morning and I'm not really prepared for the weather, but I don't care. I decide to beach that I know has lots of rocks. I climb down to the sand and sit on the rocks. I have my list of character defects and a marker, and I decide to write my defects on the rocks as I can then throw them in the ocean as I think I'll choose little rocks that are easy to throw. Then I realize my first character defect is I sit and write and sit and write, until next to me I have a big pile of rocks. I laugh when I go to pick up the blanket and realize how heavy my pile of character defects is!

I "self-haunt" and that definitely warrants a big rock. Most of the rocks I choose are not so little. I sit and write and sit and write, until next to me I have a big pile of rocks. I realize that the water is quite far from where I'm sitting, and I have a big pile of rocks that I'm not sure how to get there. I take the blanket. I'm sitting on and bundle them up in it. I laugh when I go to pick up the blanket and realize how heavy my pile of character defects is! I sit a
